Forecast For London & Southeast England
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 0400 on Saturday 18 Dec 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Staying rather dull Saturday.

Today:
Generally dull with widespread low cloud persisting for many through the day on Saturday. Remaining dry however and some brighter spells are possible later in the day, particularly in the south, with a brisk breeze persisting along coasts. Maximum temperature 7 deg C (45 deg F).

Tonight:
Through the evening and overnight remaining generally dry but dull with widespread areas of low cloud and some fog persisting across the area. Minimum temperature 5 deg C (41 deg F).

Sunday:
A dull start for many on Sunday as the cloudy conditions continue. Early fog tending to gradually lift but staying overcast for all into the day and remaining cool. Maximum temperature 7 deg C (45 deg F).

Outlook for Monday to Wednesday:
Turning brighter through the period, with some sunny spells possible. Generally dry though the chance of a light costal shower. Temperatures remaining rather cold with overnight frosts likely.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.